AUGUST 1995

Harry Browne Qualifies for First Debates

by Richard G. Combs

Harry Browne, leading contender for the Libertarian presidential nomination, has achieved his first breakthrough of the campaign. He has been invited to participate in the first three televised debates of the 1996 election season. Browne campaign director Sharon Ayres declared it "an exciting first for a Libertarian presidential candidate."

The three debates are scheduled for October 8 (Minneapolis-Saint Paul), October 22 (Spokane), and November 5 (tentatively Boston). They are part of CityVote, a multi-city, non-binding presidential straw poll that will be conducted in conjunction with local elections on November 7 in at least 18 cities around the country. Boulder is one of those cities.

Browne is one of 12 candidates who met the CityVote criteria for inclusion in the debates and straw vote, and the only one who is not running as a Republican or Democrat. Nine Republicans made the cut: Alexander, Buchanan, Dole, Dornan, Gramm, Keyes, Lugar, Specter, and Wilson. Two Democrats qualified: Clinton and LaRouche.

It's not known, of course, how many of the other 11 will participate, but Browne will be there: "I look forward to the debates with the other candidates — the Republicans and possibly even President Clinton. We've waited a long time to be able to confront them directly — and to make them justify their spending programs, the taxes they've all voted for, and the intrusions on our liberties."

The first debate will be covered by C-SPAN and by Twin Cities Public Television (a PBS affiliate). Other PBS stations will make their own decisions about carrying the telecast, and plans for coverage of the other two debates are not yet known. People who want the three debates shown in their area should begin

by Sandra Johnson

After experiencing difficulties in finding the LPC office, Jeffco LP activist Gary Sandritter decided to do something about it: he built and installed a high quality sign. The sign, worth over $400 in materials and man-hours, has greatly improved the appearance of the building and makes it appear as though the Libertarian Party owns the building!

The process is fairly involved. He obtained the "Miss Liberty" logo artwork from the printer; digitized and sized the logo with considerable help from computer expert Dick Erlacher; ordered the "laser-cut ready-to-apply-lettering" from a sign shop; researched materials and purchased special, expensive outdoor signboard; cut it to size; applied 3 coats of paint; and measured, laid out, and applied the lettering. To install it he made careful measurements; bought drill bits and fasteners for brick; drilled holes; installed the sign; and let the Quality Control Team take over (to admire the finished product)!

Sandritter has been active in the Jefferson Forum for the last two years. He is a mechanical engineer who has worked for the

To the Editor:

The June Colorado Liberty mentioned that Dan Gallegos (Libertarian elected to the Denver RTD Board) is taking some heat for working for the U.S. Snail. Lighten up, folks. It isn't easy being elected or appointed to the "Den of Lions." Who do you think is going to deliver the mail if Dan Gallegos doesn't? Lysander Spooner? The federal government delivering the mail is a fact of life we have to live with at present.

I have been a member of National LP since 1973, a member of the Wisconsin and Florida LP, and a 16-year member of the Colorado LP. I lean towards the anarcho-capitalist position, and I am a Deputy Sheriff for El Paso County. GASP! How that came about is another story.

I have been a member of the Woodland Park Board of Adjustments for 9 years. In 9 years, I have never voted against a request for a variance of city ordinances when a citizen comes before the board requesting one. Win the majority, lose a few, but always put forth my best Libertarian effort.

When Karl Hess was editor of the national LP News, he published an article I wrote about being on the Board of Adjustments (appointed by City Council). One of my suggestions to Libertarians was to be appointed to a city or county position. I listed probably 20 boards or committees that the City of Denver has and probably needs people to serve on. How many of you have applied for, or served in, one of these positions?

Dan may not do what you would do in the same position, but he took the time and effort to run and win his position. If there is any criticism, let it be constructive.

Sincerely,

Richard Crow

To the Editor:

I've been reading libertarian literature for years and it's disappointing to see the constant attacks on the environmental movement. Libertarian assaults against ecologists claim to stand on the principles of free choice and are quick to scream "Coercion!" at the mere suggestion of any kind of regulation or constraint that would benefit our surroundings.

This antagonistic attitude towards environmentalism contradicts the tenets of libertarianism as presented by the founder, Murray Rothbard, in his 1973 book, For a New Liberty. He makes it quite clear that the injunction against harm includes those injuries caused by pollution.

Air pollution that injures others is aggression pure and simple. The major function of government—of courts and police—is to stop aggression; instead the government has failed in this task and failed grievously to exercise its defense function against air pollution. (p. 271)

According to the libertarian "bible," we should be staunch supporters of the environmental movement rather than its arch enemy. In conjunction with environmentalism is the issue of animal rights. Rothbard does not comment on it, but another bearer of the libertarian banner does. Harvard professor and oft-quoted libertarian philosopher, Robert Nozick, makes the case that the prohibition against injury applies to animals in his book Anarchy, State, and Utopia (pp. 35-47). And, yes, he is a vegetarian.

So I invite libertarians to put inflammatory remarks aside and to take a constructive look at environmentalism and animal rights, and how those schools of thought intersect with libertarianism. Shouldn't libertarianism provide a legitimate forum for debate rather than an outlet for anger on these important but controversial issues?

Thank you,

Martin Schur

Adams County

Nine Libertarians attended the first formal meeting of the Libertarians of Adams County on July 10. They elected Earl Allen Chair, Norm Olsen Secretary-Treasurer, Christine Shock Campaigns, Doug Carlsten Events, and Bob Shock Membership and Publications.

The group will have a booth at the Adams County Fair on August 2-6. Meetings will be on the second Monday at CoCo's, 104th and I-25. Call Earl Allen, 254-4978, for details.

Denver County

At Denver's July meeting, about 30 people shoehorned into the small meeting room off Muddy's "library" to watch a video about the New World Order by the poster child for paranoia, Linda Thompson. As a bonus, they also saw a video about Waco produced by CNN.

The August 8 meeting will feature TABOR's Clyde Harkins discussing the continuing persecution of Douglas Bruce and related matters.

The large, very professional sign makes quite a difference. No more lost volunteers wandering around and past the building! It's another important step in our ongoing efforts to improve and professionalize the LPC's operations and image.

Why don't you check it out? Remember, members are always welcome to attend LPC Board meetings. They are held at the office on the first Wednesday of the month, at 7:30 p.m. Or call and volunteer to help with the office work (data entry, preparing mailings, and the like). Then, when you come to the office, just look for our sign!

Save on Your Long Distance and Help the Libertarian Party!

How do you benefit?

- 14.9 cents/minute interstate at all times, day or night, residential or business (16.5 cents intrastate).
- No monthly minimum, no hidden charges or monthly fees, and no calling circles to get these rates!
- Six second increment billing, with 18 second minimum (save big over standard 1 minute increment billing).
- Personal 800 number available at no extra charge.
- Reimbursed activation fee, low international rates, calling cards, a digital fiber optic network, and more!
- Unconditional guarantee—if you're not happy, it costs you nothing to switch back to your previous carrier within the first ninety days.

How do we benefit?

- The LPC gets the same great service and low rates.
- The LPC gets an 800 number so inquiries from across the state can reach us toll-free!
- Best of all, for every dollar you spend on long distance, the LPC gets 5 cents. Think about it: if just 100 libertarians switch to WCI long distance and average $20 per month, we earn $100 per month! In effect, you become one of our monthly pledgers — but instead of costing you money, it saves you money!

Affinity marketing: a Win/Win/Win situation!

You've heard of affinity group credit cards, like the Sierra Club and the NRA offer—this is the same principle applied to telecommunications. Worldwide Communications (WCI) buys huge blocks of time from the "big boys" in the long distance business at deeply discounted wholesale rates. Then they keep their costs low by marketing it through charities and membership organizations like the LPC.

They win—you win—we win!

The catch? We need a minimum number of you to sign up in order for the program to get started. Right now, we're just a handful of people short.

So fill out the form on the right, sign it, and mail it to the LPC office today! So you can start saving money and we can start earning money!

And we can get our 800 number!

lobbying their PBS affiliates, C-SPAN, and their local cable company now.

In addition to the basic requirements such as filing with the Federal Election Commission, Browne qualified for inclusion on the basis of three criteria:

- As "a candidate not running as a Democrat or Republican," he is "more likely than not" to be on the ballot in at least 35 states.
- He's received at least $100,000 in "legally qualified donations" of $1000 or less, with no more than $10,000 of that attributed to one state.

- He's received $2,000 or more in "legally qualified donations" of $250 or less in at least 15 states.
